Phone Investigation Recording

Investigator: Hello! Are you (Doctor: Hello?) Is that the hepatobiliary surgery department?

Doctor: Yes.

Investigator: Um, I am from Hohhot. I want to ask, at your Inner Mongolia Baotou Steel Hospital, do you still do liver transplantation here?

Doctor: Yes, we still do liver transplantation.

Investigator: Do you do more this year, liver transplantation?

Doctor: Not many cases.

Investigator: Not many. Are there a large amount (of surgeries) completed this year? Like how many are you able to complete in one year?

Doctor: Maybe several cases each year.

Investigator: Are there more than 20 cases?

Doctor: We can just do several cases. How can there be so many, more than 20 cases?

Investigator: Ok, so you said just a few cases.

Doctor: Yes.

Investigator: So you just did less than ten cases?

Doctor: In the entire world, there are just a few. Not ten, there are not even ten cases.

Investigator: What is the reason? Before...

Doctor: No liver sources. Now, we are not allowed to take livers from (executed) prisoners, don't you know? So there is no liver source.

Investigator: Well, no liver source. Um, now, are there organ donations?

Doctor: Yes, there are, but rarely. No one donates. Nowadays who would be donating their organs?

Investigator: So you mean that the liver sources are not distributed by the country? So the liver sources are local.

Doctor: It depends on whether you have money or not.

Investigator: Ah? What did you say?

Doctor: Alas! I said no, no liver source.

Investigator: So what should we do? Is there no way? Before...

Doctor: I don't have a solution.

Investigator: Can the previous liver sources still be used? Or they're allowed?

Doctor: The liver resources used to be from (executed) prisoners before. This is not allowed now.

Investigator: It is not allowed. If it is allowed, that would be from a healthy body, right?

Doctor: Yes, correct, correct.

Investigator: And the quality is good.

Doctor: Okay, yes, yes. Um, yes.

(The doctor hung up.)
